Cargo Insurance

NACORA - Specialized in cargo and transportation insurance, personal service

All cargo handled or shipped is cargo at risk outside the custody, care and control of cargo owners or interest. It is still a common belief that transport companies, handling agents, terminals, freight forwarders or carriers will fully compensate the cargo interest in the event of a loss or damage.

In practice the liability of those parties arranging or actually transporting and handling the goods is often governed by standard trading conditions and in respect of international carriage of goods contracts by international conventions. The term limit may even exclude the liability of freight forwarders, carriers and handling agents. Some of those international conventions are mandatory, applicable by law and in general the liability for cargo loss or damage is based on the weight of the goods and not the commercial invoice value.

For any cargo interest to be adequately protected from financial losses caused by Goods in Transit Risks, adequate cargo insurance must be purchased in accordance with the respective shipment terms (INCOTERMS), agreed between buyer and seller under any sale of goods contract. This will ensure that, for risk insured under cargo insurance, you will recover the full value of your goods within the insured limits; i.e. the commercial invoice value.

Individual Cargo Insurance solutions

Our Clear Cargo Insurance program provides a comprehensive solution to companies and individuals seeking full value insurance for goods in transit, during import, export, (or both), nationally and internationally. It also accounts for the conditions you agree upon under the contract of carriage and the processes you have put in place to control sensitive, high value or temperature controlled cargo.

We aim to understand your business requirements, how you plan the carriage of your goods, and the arrangement of transport or storage, in order to design and provide the optimum risk coverage of your goods carried by air, sea, road or rail

Clear Cargo

Industry specific coverage and cover extensions

Our cargo coverage solution can include unique extensions required by your specific industry. The policy could also be extended by additional war and strikes clauses, or a separate available political risk coverage protecting your goods against confiscation. Coverage may also be extended to contain storage risk coverage. It is generally based on internationally recognized Institute Cargo Clauses (A) which provide the widest "all risk" protection in the ordinary course of transit for the following perils:

- Cargo loss or damage during transit
- Cargo loss or damage whilst in storage in the ordinary course of transit
- General Average protection

Further coverage extensions can be added to create a bespoke cargo insurance solution to your company's specific needs.
